Bank Account Data via Account Aggregator

Passbook Pro fetches your bank account data (transaction history and balances) exclusively through RBI-licensed Account Aggregators (AA) operating under the RBI Account Aggregator Master Direction, 2016 (as amended). This process works as follows:

- You provide explicit, OTP-based consent through the AA framework to authorise data fetching from your bank accounts.
- No net banking credentials, passwords or PINs are ever collected or stored by us at any point.
- The App is strictly read-only. No money transfer, payment initiation or financial transaction of any kind is possible through the App.

- Data is fetched only with your explicit, informed and revocable consent as required under the AA framework.
- Fetched transaction and balance data are stored on secure cloud based servers solely to display it within the App and is retained only for as long as necessary to provide the Services or as required by applicable law.

We also use this backup to provide information related to User transaction patterns in the form of aggregated and anonymised statistics.
